Q. 1) What is the best thing that comes to your mind when you hear the Name SVP CET and what are those moments from your SVP CET life which are closest to your heart. Any experience you would love to share?

I always learnt from my college the actual meaning of time which plays a vital role in revamping our life and future, innovative learning with all efforts taken by my college professors and friends helped me to go up an extra mile by sharing knowledge across various domains with scaling up my confidence and enthusiasm by always thinking innovative every day and enjoying life integrated with studies and fun. I miss the fascinating hackathons, annual fests and various extracurricular activities that always consolidated fun and provided a challenging arena to emphasize knowledge.

Q. 2) What are the most important life lessons you have learned throughout?

The concepts and the knowledge we gain from different sources must be implemented and exemplified in real life rather than keeping it theoretical. This will help all of us to get some hands on and brain storm many solutions to various industrial substantial problems and can bring the concepts to real time. For example concepts like Cognitive Automation can make our life easier and also enable us to explore concepts more in detail. This will ultimately help to nurture Business Digital Transformation shaping a pathway to digital future.

Q. 3) As you are awarded with different awards in TCS would you like to say something?

I would love to say "Instead of Competing with others always compete with yourself" this thought always inspired me to focus on where we stand and try to concentrate on those area where we need to improve which will always help everyone to foster existing knowledge and achieve anything in life by conquering all the obstacles easily.

Q. 4) Any message you would like to give to the alumni through the alumni newsletter.

"The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams !". This inspirational quote has enabled me to enhance my career growth throughout my career. SVP CET provided me all the support, encouragement and guidance at all the early phases of my career, further taking a step to my professional career in TCS. TCS has also provided an interactive platform to think innovative, explore, interact and learn something new everyday. So I would say always think innovative with an effective collaboration across the alumni network that will help to open doors to new trending Business Opportunities in Digital Sectors.
